GROUP GUIDELINES AT THE TREVOR ZOO

1. Keep noise and movement to a minimum.
We try to keep the animals’ environment as natural as possible, and we ask that you and your group act like quiet observers of nature. When inside any of the buildings, please whisper. Please do not scream or wave at the animals, or knock on the glass to try to get their attention. The animals will become stressed by your presence and will be more likely to hide from you.

2. Please stay on the path and behind the ropes.
The ropes are there for your protection, and they give the animals space and distance that they need from visitors. Do not try to touch the animals; they are wild animals and could injure you.

3. Please break up into small groups of 10-12. Travel through the zoo in different directions from the other groups.

4. Please walk. Do not run.

5. Please do not feed the animals.
This includes grass, leaves, or food items that you may bring with you or find on the ground. The animals are fed specific diets. You may harm them by giving them something that they normally do not eat.

6. We ask that you picnic in the picnic area by the otter exhibit. Please clean up the area before you leave.

7. Restrooms are in the Zoo Education Center (located on the pond).
